BANKER WITNESS IN WILL CASE

Collins of Sound Mind, Cunningham Testifies

TRANSACTED OWN BUSINESS

Weinfeld Also Strengthens Case of Plaintiff

That Samuel Collins carried on his business affairs almost to the day of his death was a declaration made before the jury in the $250,000 will contest on trial in common pleas court Wednesday by Frank C. Cunningham, president of the First National Bank. Dorothy Collins, plaintiff, is suing Perry C. Collins, to obtain one-third of the estate.

Cunningham told the jury that Samuel Collins had a checking account in his bank up to the day of his death.

LOOKED AFTER OWN BUSINESS

Collins was an old customer of the bank, the witness told the jury. He often dropped in and took possession of the president's office and spent an hour or so talking business and politics and looking out across public square, it was related.

Details of the leasing of the building site, occupied by the bank and the Sigma were partly related Wednesday morning by D. C. Henderson, attorney who drew the papers.

Henderson's testimony showed that Samuel Collins had participated in the deal, understood it and made it of his own free will.

The consideration was $10,000 a year for 99 years.

A number of physicians who testified Tuesday and Wednesday declared that Samuel Collins' mentality was unimpaired at the time of his death.

Testimony introduced by the defendant, Perry C. Collins, a son, attempted to show the decedent incompetent.

Other testimony introduced Wednesday tended to prove Samuel Collins was active physically as well as mentally up to within a few weeks of his death favored Dorothy Collins the plaintiff.

"My knee is stiff, but it is getting better and it is the only thing in the world that is the matter with me. But for it I should be all right."

Mitchell said that Samuel Collins made the statement in a conversation shortly before his death.

"Did he know enough to transact business in your opinion?" Mitchell was asked.

"He most certainly did," declared the witness.

Mitchell also said that in conversations with Samuel Collins, the nonagenarian demonstrated an unquestioned ability to remember names and faces of members of his family and friends. He unquestionably had the mentality to remember everyone at the time, Mitchell testified.

Mrs. Stillman Denies Misconduct With Indian Guide

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—(Associated Press)—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, taking the stand in her defense today in the trial of the divorce suit instituted by James A. Stillman, New York banker, denied she had misconducted herself with Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, as described in testimony by witnesses previously called by the plaintiff.

It was reported that Mrs. Stillman had not been allowed to answer questions which sought to establish that she and her husband lived together two days during January, 1918, at their country estate in the Poconos Hill and for two weeks in February of that year in a New York hotel.

This is the period important in the paternity issue affecting her infant son, Guy Stillman, who was born in November, 1918.

According to Weinfield, Collins came to the shop alone to get particular about having his beard trimmed just so.

RUSSIAN REPLY TO ALLIES HELD UP

Deferred After Conference With Italian Leader

ANSWER IS TO BE ALTERED

May Result in Modification of Soviet Terms

GENOA — (Associated Press) — The Russian reply to the allied memorandum which was ready for presentation this forenoon was not delivered to the allies as expected, as at the last moment, after a conversation between Foreign Ministers Tchitcherine of Russia and Schanzer of Italy, it was decided the reply would have to undergo some alteration.

M. Tchitcherine left Genoa at 2 p.m., returning to Santa Margherita to consult the other members of the Russian delegation. It was not expected, therefore, that the reply could be presented until tomorrow. The fact that the delay was due to M. Tchitcherine's visit to Signor Schanzer was regarded in some quarters as a favorable indication.

In French circles the belief was expressed that an attempt was being made to influence the Russians to modify their reply so as to permit the conference to continue.

GENOVA — (Associated Press) — The eighteenth session of the council of the League of Nations will open here tomorrow with the prospect of several important questions now before the Genoa economic conference coming up for discussion.

The possibility for one thing of the league going extensively into the Russian questions is seen in a request filed with the league by Norway, asking for an independent inquiry into the famine in Russia.

It is also thought probable that the Genoa conference will refer to the league the Warsaw health convention which was drawn up recently at the Polish capital by all the European powers, including Russia and Germany. This convention calls for a general European anti-epidemic crusade to cost nearly $7,000,000. The council of the league took advantage of the Genoa conference to refer the anti-epidemic project to the leading European statesmen there, but it is believed in league circles that the question will be buried in the general mass of problems under examination at Genoa and will have to be considered finally by the league council.

The session of the council is expected to last a week. It will be presided over by Count Quiñones de Leon, Spanish ambassador to France.

A feature of the meeting will be the signing of the economic treaty between Germany and Poland's covering Upper Silesia. This treaty, which represents six months of work by the league, is more than 500 pages long. It constitutes in effect final settlement of the vexed Upper Silesian problem.

Mandates for the former German colonies and the Albanian problem also will be considered by the council.

CONTINENTAL MAN SEEKS FAMILY

Wife, Baby, Mother-in-Law Missing, Tells Lima Police

His wife, baby, mother-in-law and two supposed women seducers are sought by Oscar Brown, Continental, who arrived in Lima Wednesday and mapped out an extensive search for them, with the aid of police.

According to a report made to police, Brown says his wife, Minnie, with her two-months-old baby, wrapped in a pink blanket, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mary Jennings, left Continental two weeks ago. Seven days later, he says, two men of that village departed.

Some days ago a friend told Brown he had seen the quintet in this city, not together, however.

Mrs. Brown is 20 years old, is five feet six inches tall, weighs 155 pounds and has dark curly hair. She wore a black silk waist when last seen; blue serge skirt, three-fourths length and gun metal shoes.

An exhibition of gymnasium worn was put on by I. G. Maxwell, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. assisted by three of his leaders. Following the drill the Lions were put thru a series of calisthenics "to work up an appetite."

STILLWATER, Okla. — (United Press) — Charge of murder was today placed against Earl E. Gordon, 25, ex-service man, of Miami, Okla., for the shooting to death of Beckham Cobb, 23, an overseas veteran of Birmingham, near the Oklahoma A. & M. College.

The charge was filed by the county attorney of Payne-co. Arraignment will be held late today.

The shooting was the result of an attempt by Cobb to secure an apology for an alleged insult to his 18-year-old wife, according to county officials who investigated the case.

Gordon, who is in county jail, remains silent. He refuses to discuss the case with any one but his attorneys.

ADMISSION CHARGE FOR COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES ORDERED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Annual commencement exercises of Central and South High schools will be held Friday, June 9, in Memorial hall.

The board of education, working with Superintendent J. E. Collins, has arranged a plan whereby all tickets over a sufficient number allotted each graduate will be sold this year. Object is to do away with packing the hall, which has, according to Collins, interfered with efforts of the speaker to make himself heard, in past years.

Douglas Williams was engaged to engross names of graduates upon diplomas, at a meeting of the board held Tuesday night.

State fire marshal has ordered change of fire escapes at Lincoln school, to comply with present rules. This will be done before school begins next year. A few years ago the board placed the escape in present positions by order of state fire marshals.

Meeting was the shortest held within a year, members commented, at close of the session.

MORE TIME GIVEN IN KITE ENTRY

Blanks to be Received in Kiwanis Fete Up to Friday

SCHOOL YOUTHS INTERESTED

Fifty-two Are Entered for Contest Saturday

In Korea kites are flown to protect homes from attacks by evil spirits; in America they are sent up to bring joy to boys and to provide them with practical amusement.

Both China and Japan place large emphasis on kite making and flying. In Japan kites representing animals are used. China has an annual kite day, when all men and boys fly kites.

Lima's first annual kite day will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. and will be under the control of the Kiwanis club, which have offered $135 in awards to the boys who make and fly the best kites.

A visit to several of the public schools was made Tuesday afternoon by Frank Pringle and Francis O'Connor, members of the Kiwanis committee in charge of the contest.

BOTS ARE INTERESTED

Talks to the boys were made and interest stirred in the coming tournament. At Central High it was found that several of the boys in the manual training class were making kites.

At South High more than a dozen boys are planning to enter the contest and in another school 14 out of 16 boys in one class were building kites.

Fifty-two entry blanks were received by Pringle Wednesday morning. All of these were coupons clipped from The Lima News by the youthful kite flyers.

A coupon is being printed again in this issue so that the boys who have not yet entered their kites may do so. The entry should be either taken to the offices of the Lima Natural Gas Co. or mailed to post office box No. 247.

It is desired to have all entries in as soon as possible, in order that the number in each class can be determined. Should there be no entries in any one class, the prizes will be shifted to other classes.

Application blanks were distributed among the schools and a number placed in the Diesel store, where the awards are being displayed. Blanks may also be obtained at the gas office.

One boy has entered four kites. It is possible for him to win four firsts and the sweepstakes of $15 in gold if his kites prove to be the best in the respective classes.

TIME EXTENDED

Extension of time within which kites might be entered was announced by Pringle Wednesday. Many boys have not realized that it is necessary to enter their kites and have failed to do so.

All entries must be in, however, by Friday in order that definite arrangements can be made to care for them at the fair grounds.

City engineers will be called upon to judge which kite flies the highest. C. A. Bingham, city manager and one of the judges, announced Wednesday. This will insure a fair decree, he said.

All kites must be in the hands of the committee between 8 and 10 a.m. Saturday morning. The tournament will be held at 1 p.m. at the fair grounds.

Mrs. Fred Bradley and Mrs. Frank Smith, both of Lima were admitted as new members. The new piano, recently purchased for the hospital by the woman's board, was used for the first time. Louis Moehns accompanied and played violin solos.

The Allen-co board accepted the invitation of the Crosley Car Co. S. Main-st., to attend a radio concert at the company's garage Tuesday evening.

EXCESS OF RAIN HELPS WEEDS

Following the advent of summer temperature, the weatherman became peevish about something and made a night of it with showers, which continued during the day Wednesday.

Prospects for further moist conditions continue, according to the weather bureau for Wednesday.

WAPAKONETA. — (Special) — Decision of Judge F. C. Layton, in criminal pleas court, in the application of his son, Roy E. Layton, for a new trial in the case of the State of Ohio against Charles Piening, was not expected to be announced this afternoon.

Owing to the voluminous character of the presents made before the court by Piening's attorney, it is believed the matter will be taken under advisement, for decision later.

Piening was convicted of first degree murder in the killing of Rev. A. J. Schweiterman, a Minister priest. The verdict carries death penalty.

Layton, a son of the judge, is the attorney for Piening. He asked for a new trial on the grounds that error was made in the admission and exclusion of testimony, in the charge to the jury and in statements made by the prosecution in presenting the case to the jury.

A supplemental petition also charged that Jacob Lapole, one of the jurors was biased and prejudiced and that he had formed and expressed an opinion before the case came to trial.

Attorney for the defendant had not completed his argument at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. It is expected that Prosecuting Attorney Carl Timmerman and his assistant, Lawrence Brodbeck, of St. Marys, will require some time in combating the charges presented by the defendant's attorney. Lapole was in court during the day, but up to 1:30 p.m. had not been quizzed in connection with the details of the motion affecting his status as a juror.

Layton presented argument in behalf of his contention that the verdict of the jury against Piening is not in conformity with law and the weight of evidence; that of 13 witnesses examined for the state, only four testified to premeditation and that premeditated murder was not proven.

Eight more paid tribute Wednesday for parking their machines without lights. All save Frank Downing, attorney, who was tagged May 5, and told by Jackson to appear any time he desired, were fined $5 a piece. Downing paid $1. The "lucky" ones:

FINDS NO HAPPINESS IN MATRIMONY, WIFE ASKS FOR A DIVORCE

Failure of her husband, Alfred Hillard, to provide her with proper food and clothing, drove Mary A. Hillard to seek relief in a divorce action, she says in a petition filed in common pleas court Wednesday.

They were married in Fredonia, Kansas, March 12, 1921, but encountered such difficulty in finding wedded bliss that on November 29 they parted.</

TWO REMARKABLE CAREERS END

Forbes Comments on Lives of Patterson and Davison

SIMILAR IN CHARACTER

Both, Humble in Youth, Rising to Great Leaders

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEw YORK.—(Special)—Intrusive, dynamic energy, tenaciousness were characteristics of the two big Americans, each a leader in his field who passed on during the week-end. Henry P. Davison and John H. Patterson.

Both started humbly, both had rough going early in life. Both had extraordinary determination and tenacity. Both were instrumental in making their organizations the foremost of their kind in the world. Both became relatively wealthy, but neither had money-making as his main goal.

Both spent their latter years largely in trying to do things constructively helpful to their fellow-mortals. Both leave promising young sons—one of Davison's sons recently entered the House of Morgan, while Patterson's only son was made the president of the National Cash Register Company last year.

It was Davison's courage which first brought him into public notice in New York city. The first time he tried to find work in New York he walked the streets in vain. Several years later his irrepressible persistency won him a minor position in a small financial institution in New York city. Some time afterwards, when a paying teller, a madman presented a check drawn to the order of The Almighty for a million dollars and at the same instant presented a gun at Davison's head. Davison coolly began to read the check very loudly to attract attention, at the same time starting to count out money. The bank's special policeman looked around when he heard the tellers' loud voice, took in the situation at a glance, crept behind the madman and in a flash had him disarmed.

The day this incident was published in the newspapers the directors of another bank had a meeting, and one of them remarked that this was the kind of young man they ought to have in their bank. They got him. And Davison made good so notably that from then on he stepped up and up the ladder until he became recognized as the ablest partner the late J. P. Morgan ever discovered.

Sunday's newspapers told how Davison was smiling and cheerful as he stepped into the room to undergo what proved to be a fatal operation. He exhibited the same cheerful courage when being operated on last year. Some times an anecdote throws a whole flood of light on a man's make-up. How's this one?

As Mr. Davison lay on the operating table for his first operation, one of the nurses approached with a razor to shave the hair from the back of his ear, where the incision was to be made. The physician unwillingly relieved the nurse of the razor and said:

"I think I'll do this job myself." "That reminds me of a story," said the patient, sitting up. "Have you time to listen to it?" "Go ahead," he was told.

"A friend of mine, a mining engineer, got into a small western town with about four days growth of beard on his face. He wanted a barber, but was told there was none. 'Well, I never shaved myself in my life. What am I to do?' he asked."

"Dunno," said the clerk. "I might find somebody. Got to think it over." About an hour later a tall, cadaverous-looking man entered, carrying a black bag.

"I've come to shave you," said he. "Lie down on the bed there. 'What'll I lie down for?'" said the guest. "Lie down stranger," said the voice. The mining engineer had one of the smoothest shaves in his life. He arose, gave the caller a fat fee and said:

"Will you gratify a stranger's curiosity? Why did you make me lie down?"

"Because," said the visitor, "I never shaved a live man before. I am the village undertaker."

Just as Theodore N. Vail found the telephone little more than a toy and developed it into a great national necessity, so John H. Patterson found the cash register little more than a toy and made it an adjunct of business throughout the civilized world. Like most of America's business pioneers, Mr. Patterson in the old days played the game according to the rules then in vogue. Cut-throat competition was rampant. In order to survive, the test fought without gloves. The court found Patterson, as it found many other great American business leaders, guilty of practices which later ceased to be countenanced. The higher court, however, did not confirm this finding and in order to save its face, the Department of Justice begged Mr. Patterson to arrive at a compromise and settlement of the whole matter. He reluctantly consented to do this, and one of his poignant regrets ever after was that he hadn't seen the thing thru to a finish because he felt that unjustified odium had been cast upon him.

When there was widespread talk of asking a pardon for him, he indignantly denounced the movement. Mr. Patterson's chief concern during the last decade or more has been to do all within his power to bring about more harmonious relations between employers and workers, particularly thru making the environment and working conditions healthful, attractive and beautiful. His own estate was thrown open for the use of the public years ago and thousands of thousands of picnics and similar gatherings have been held there. Mr. Patterson even arranging to supply utensils, hot water, etc., for the picnickers. He has told me repeatedly that he regarded the majority of employers as lamentably shortsighted in their cold-blooded attitude towards workers. He repeated as his motto: "My religion is to do good," and had it posted through his mammoth factories amidst beautiful surroundings.

SOCIAL SERVICE BUREAU GETS CALLS FOR LABOR

Calls for laborers are coming to the office of the Social Service Bureau. Twenty-five men will be needed for work which will start other Thursday or Friday.

Many of the men registered cannot be reached when wanted as they have no phones in their homes and if sought personally they are apt to be working somewhere for the day or out looking for work, Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson says.

It is desired that the men now listed keep in close touch with the bureau so that all calls may be filled as they come in. New applications for jobs are solicited by the bureau and manufacturers are urged to send their needs to the bureau for filling.

DEMOCRATS SOLIDLY FOR IT

Middle West Republicans Also Demand Facts

(By LAURENCE M. BENEDICT)

WAshington.—(United Press)—Republican leaders in the house last night called for balking passage of the pending resolution calling for an investigation of the conduct of the department of justice in war graft cases.

From a reliable source it was learned that Floor Leader Mondell and other party leaders, apparently working in close touch with the administration, have decided to do everything they can to stave off the investigation.

WOULD REVEAL HAND

Taking at face value Attorney General Daugherty's statement that prosecutions in fraud cases are soon to be started, they will vigorously oppose any attempt to bring the resolution before the house for consideration if they fall in this, they will try to marshal enough votes to kill the resolution when it comes to a vote.

In an investigation, these leaders contend, would "reveal the hand" of the department of justice and lay bare many secrets which should be made known only in the courts.

STANDING BY DEMOCRATS

Standing firm for the investigation, however, is a powerful group of Republicans, mostly from the middle west states and practically every member on the Democratic side of the house. They are united behind Representatives Woodruff, Michigan, and Johnson, South Dakota, Republicans authors of the joint resolution, providing an investigation.

Woodruff and Johnson said today they have more than enough names on petitions to force the resolution to a vote and to secure its adoption.

Woodruff today characterized Daugherty's letter transmitted to the house yesterday by President Harding as "purely and simply an attempt to steer congress away from an investigation."

CITY LAKES FULL, NO DANGER OF SHORTAGE OF WATER COMING SUMMER

Sufficient water is stored in the reservoirs feeding the city water works to supply the city until February 1, 1923, it was announced by Charles Evans, waterworks superintendent, Wednesday.

More than 1,270,000,000 gallons of water is now on hand and the daily consumption is averaging 5,000,000 gallons a day, he said. There is no danger of a water famine this summer, Evans asserts.

Every reservoir is filled to capacity, thanks to the heavy rains during the past few weeks. Leaks and evaporation will lessen the supply, but a water scarcity is practically an impossibility, it is believed.

Work has been started on the installation of more than two miles of service water lines. Pipe for the 16 miles of main lines to be installed this summer is being received and distributed.

All work will be completed before winter if the weather clears up and the rains stop, Evans believes.

TWO FILE FOR POLICE TEST IN CIVIL SERVICE

Two seeking positions on the Lima police force have filed their applications, Bert S. Motter, clerk of the civil service board, announced.

Several others have signified their intention of filing applications and taking the examination which will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the commission chambers in the city hall.

"Applicants thus far for the examination are a very fine type of citizen and will make excellent officers I believe," Motter said.

FAMILY DRIVEN INTO RAIN AS HOUSE BURNS

Four persons were driven out into a drenching rain when fire destroyed the country home of Thomas Shellenberger, one and a half miles east of Waynesfield Tuesday night.

Lightning playing on the telephone wires is believed to be the cause of the fire which did between $1,500 and $2,500 damage to the 12 room house. Insurance covered $1,600 of the damage.

Shellenberger and his wife, his son and daughter-in-law were in the house at the time.

All household goods were removed, but were damaged.

DEMAND FOR U. S. PRODUCTS VAST

Call From Abroad Reported at Trade Convention

FOREIGN NEEDS ARE SHOWN

European Prosperity Means Wealth For America

PHILADELPHIA.—(Associated Press)—There are in Europe vast potential demands for all kinds of American products and vast potential means for the creation of wealth and consequently of purchasing power and capacity. Charles M. Muchnic, vice-president of the American Locomotive Sales Corporation, told the delegates to the Foreign Trade Convention here today. Mr. Muchnic has just returned from a trip to Europe.

"What is required," he continued, "is faith and confidence in them and the supply of the necessary capital to hasten their general industrial revival. Before the world can again become a large purchaser of our manufactured products, we must see a Europe prosperous, busy, producing; the sale of our manufactured products and other semi-manufactured products.

"European prosperity will spell also prosperity for this country. CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

"The present depression in our export trade is not due to German, Austrian, Belgian, French or British competition but to a world lack of purchasing power."

In speaking of Germany, Mr. Muchnic said: "The real cause of currency depreciation there is not due solely, as is generally believed in this country, to reparation payments exacted by the allies but to false economic measures and theories indulged in by the German government ever since the termination of the war, its failure to impose adequate taxes immediately after the armistice and to collect such taxes after imposed; to a criminal dissipation of its national wealth thru the maintenance of a fictitious value of the mark within their country's boundaries. This applies with equal force to Austria and other Central European countries."

WOULD REVEAL HAND

Taking at face value Attorney General Daugherty's statement that prosecutions in fraud cases are soon to be started, they will vigorously oppose any attempt to bring the resolution before the house for consideration if they fall in this, they will try to marshal enough votes to kill the resolution when it comes to a vote.

STORY TOLD ON ANNIVERSARY

One of Only Two Survivors Recounts Tragic Events

SPENCER, Ohio.—(Associated Press)—Fifty-seven years ago today Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate states, was taken prisoner by the fourth Michigan cavalry in an early morning surprise near Irwinville, Ga.

Today, Thomas Miles Hunter, 73 years old veteran of 73 civil war engagements, sat in an old arm chair on the front porch of his country home, two miles from here, and recounted reminiscences of that tragic period. He says he is one of two survivors of the Fourth Michigan present at the capture.

The President of the Confederacy was not injured in feminine apparel when the Michigan troopers surrounded his little encampment, asserts Hunter, historical statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

CAMP DISCOVERED

"He wore a gentleman's morning robe over his regular clothes," said the aged soldier. "On his head was an old striped bonnet. He did not have on any woman's belongings. There wasn't even any strings on his bonnet. He was a man sure enough."

The Michigan troopers, 419 of them, with ten officers, were preparing for rest after three days and nights of marching from Macon, Ga., to Irwinville.

Standing firm for the investigation, however, is a powerful group of Republicans, mostly from the middle west states and practically every member on the Democratic side of the house. They are united behind Representatives Woodruff, Michigan, and Johnson, South Dakota, Republicans authors of the joint resolution, providing an investigation.

WOODRUFF AND JOHNSON

They are solidly behind the investigation, however, and are determined to force the resolution through.

TAG DAY PLANNED FOR CHILD AID

May 20 is Day Chosen—New Recreation Centers

Campaign for securing memberships and soliciting funds with which to pay supervisors, provide for equipment and carry on playground activities in Lima, will be started next week, according to announcement made Wednesday by Dr. Josephine Pierce, of the Allen-Child Welfare Association.

Tag Day for the sale of buttons on Lima streets to advance interests of the playground cause, will be held Saturday, May 20. Children of the playground clubs will sell the buttons.

Annual meeting of the Child Welfare association will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Barr hotel. At that time reports of every department of the work will be made.

Aside from maintaining playgrounds in Fauquier, Lincoln and McCullough lake parks and at Whittier school this year, the association hopes to secure sufficient funds to establish one or two other recreation centers, locations to be announced at a later date.

Plans of the association are to bring the McCullough lake recreation center up to a high point of excellence this year. Supervisors and general director of playgrounds will be named, following close of the campaign.

However, the association has announced supervisors who served last year will be given preference. F. B. Wallace, physical educational director at Central High school, was general director of playgrounds last year.

All work will be completed before winter if the weather clears up and the rains stop, Evans believes.

HOW HE GOT RICH

MOST of the money you have made, so far in life, has passed out of your hands and into one of the cash registers manufactured by John H. Patterson, dead now at the age of 77.

Patterson was a wizard of psychology.

He knew the science of making money, knew it "from soup to nuts." From his life, you can learn much that may help you get rich.

PATTERSON'S greatest legacy to the future is scientific salesmanship, of which he was the step-father.

His factory, the National Cash Register Company, had the first school in our country devoted exclusively to salesmanship as a science or art. The idea was imported from Germany.

In this school, Patterson's drummers were taught the answer to every possible objection or question that might be raised by a prospective cash register buyer.

From this, learn the value of thoroughness in everything.

Learn, also, what Patterson instinctively knew—that success is largely a matter of salesmanship. No matter how wonderful your work, ideas or products, they will bring you success only in proportion to your ability to sell them profitably.

Ignorance of the principles of salesmanship keeps many a man and woman working for a fraction of what they could get if they developed a greater market for their stuff, through salesmanship.

MYBRE you wonder why you sometimes see, in a small store, a cash register worth as much as the store's whole stock.

The answer is: Patterson spread the value of protecting money against theft and keeping accurate, analytical records—both functions combined in the cash register.

It's a good deal like a business that has $500 invested in a safe that never holds more than $200.

The Patterson method of appealing to a prospective buyer was to show the buyer how to protect his cash against loss and how to run his business so it would at all times show him just where he stood, also reveal lines of unprofitable effort.

Patterson made money by showing other people how to make money. The customers came first, Patterson second. Usually, it's the other way, car before the horse. That's why so few small businesses attain the size of the National Cash Register Company.

JOHN H. PATTERSON was one of the business giants now rapidly fading into eternity. He was in the class with James J. Hill, Andrew Carnegie, Henry Flagler, John D. Rockefeller, John Wanamaker and other pioneer leaders of industry.

These men were the kind Horatio Alger wrote about—from poor boy to riches. They proved that the platitudes, much laughed at, get the money.

TRAFFIC SLIPS COST MORE

THERE is a noticeable falling off in the usual number of daily cases of traffic violations since the fine for minor offenses in criminal court has been increased from $1 to $5.

Since traffic slips cost more, owners of autos to whose notice the change in the policy of the court has come, are exercising more care in the disposition of their cars in parking zones; they are paying more attention to lighting rules and to other little details that heretofore cost them a dollar when they forgot.

The penalty is five times as severe this week for traffic violations as it was last week. It helps wonderfully in cutting down the cases in court. The city doesn't want the money; it simply desires that car owners obey the laws. Cutting the number of cases four-fifths will result in the same amount of money being placed in the city treasury, with one-fifth the amount of work required under the former plan.

Awful nausea and sick headache added to my troubles and I almost despaired of ever regaining my health."

OXIDATION PLANS GAINING FAVOR

Mayor Cunningham Explains Sewage Reduction Method

PLANT MAY COST $300,000

Receipts of Bids Delayed Until July 1

Direct oxidation of sewage, to destroy all germs and odors, is the best system which has been brought to the attention of the Lima city commission. Mayor Harold Cunningham believes, after having investigated plants in the east.

In this method of sewage disposal lime and electricity are used to make organic matter and bacteria harmless and impotent. It has been tried out in eastern cities and is said to be a success. Cunningham states:

Sewage enters at one end of the plant and passes over screens which remove all paper, pieces of wood and other larger particles of debris which find their way into the sewers of a city.

Another screen removes all grit and sand which may have been picked up by the sewage in its trip to the disposal plant. Brushes are constantly cleaning the screens and keeping them open.

From the screens the sewage flows into an apparatus which permits lime to be distributed thru it. The lime is mixed with water and a complete combination with the sewage is effected.

ELECTRICITY USED
A battery of electrodes, thru which the sewage must flow, completes the work of reduction. These electrodes are 3-8 of an inch apart and are connected with an electrical generator.

One of the electrodes gives off oxygen and the other hydrogen. These two elements intermingle with the lime treated sewage and purify it.

Paddles are placed between the batteries of electrodes and the sewage kept moving thru them. The course of the sewage is straight thru the treating tanks to the outlet.

From the tanks the sewage nows into settling tanks and from them into the river or stream used for final disposal. All solid matter has been deposited in the tanks and only clear water is discharged.

Whenever the amount of settlings reach a certain level the sewage is turned into another tank and the filled one cleaned out. There is no odor to either the water or the settlings, it is claimed.

All solid matter, deposited in the tanks, can be conveyed to low points around the plants and used to fill them up. This is possible even where the plant is near dwelling houses, it is said.

A reduction of 92.7 per cent in the total number of bacteria in the sewage and a reduction of 99.85 percent in the number of B. coli has been recorded by this process.

This reduction compares favorably with that resulting from the use of any other process and is better than several of the methods investigated at one time or another, city officials say.

Cost of installing a direct oxidation plant is considerably less than that of any other recognized type of sewage disposal plant, officials say.

1/4 COST $300,000
While accurate estimates have not been made, it is believed that the direct oxidation plant can be installed in Lima for between $200,000 and $300,000. This compares with $750,000 for the sprinkler filter system.

Operation costs are also said to be lower. Figures arrived at by engineers place the per capita cost at 4.9 cents a year where 4,000,000 gallons of sewage is handled a day and the population is 40,000 or more.

Interest and depreciation would bring this cost to about 68 cents a cent per person as compared with costs as high as $1.10 for a city of 40,000 using another method.

This does not include, however, the costs of the sewers and their de-

FIVE NURSES WIN DIPLOMAS

Class to Graduate Tonight From City Hospital

PROGRAM AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Reception at Home of Mrs. M. S.
Thompson

Wednesday evening will be a notable occasion in the history of the graduation class of Lima City Hospital Training School, when commencement exercises will be held at the First Baptist church.

The class which will complete training and enter the real work of nursing consists of the Misses Rena M. Clevenger, Effie M. Thompson, Naomi B. Harper, Blanche Neely and Avia A. Hardin.

RECEPTION PLANNED

The program will begin at 8 p.m. immediately following the exercises, the woman's board of managers of City Hospital will extend a reception to members and their friends at the home of Mrs. M. S. Thompson, 506 W. Market-st. Mrs. Thompson is a member of the woman's board.

Bids will be asked on the direct oxidation method and also on the sprinkler-filter system and the two compared. If a considerable saving in both first cost and in operation is found the direct oxidation method may be adopted.

Because of the tremendous amount of work necessary to draw up the plans it is believed that they will not be ready to submit to bidders in time to receive the bids by June 1.

It is expected, however, that the bids will be returned by July 1 and that a decision as to the method to be used will be made at that time.

PLANS ARE MATURING FOR OBSERVANCE OF HOSPITAL DAY HERE

National hospital day on Friday will be observed in a fitting manner by St. Rita's and City hospitals of Lima.

At St. Rita's, an elaborate program has been arranged, including a baby show, when a large representation of babies born at the hospital the last two years will be entered.

A program will be given in the afternoon and cake and ice cream served by members of St. Rita's guild at the close, for visitors. In case the day is threatening or showery, the program will be given in the roof garden on the seventh floor of the hospital and visitors will be entertained in sun parlors and rec rooms.

City hospital will be open for inspection by visitors in the late morning and early afternoon hours. Miss Ella E. Patterson, superintendent, has set apart the time as opportunity for conversing with young women desirous of entering the nursing profession or obtaining information concerning nursing.

Not only Lima residents, but those of Allen and adjoining counties, are invited to make inspection of both hospitals.

CANDIDATES ARE APPEARING

Basinger For Treasurer, Lauby
For Commissioner, File

That there will be no dearth of candidates for office in Allen-co. on the Democratic ticket, in the primary to be held August 8, is indicated by the number of seekers who have taken to the field in active campaign and the number who have filed their declarations of candidacy.

The latest entrant is Elmer Lauby of Richland-ip, who is seeking nomination for county commissioner. There are other candidates for this office, but they have not filed their declaration with the board of elections. Lauby is the first under the wire in that respect.

N. W. Basinger, also of Richland-ip, deputy in the office during the regime of Lehr Miller, has filed his declaration as a candidate for county treasurer on the Democratic ticket.

John E. Conrad, for sheriff, is the first to file. Dr. Frank Smith for coroner is thus far unopposed and Robert Heffner of Lafayete and Clarence C. Miller of Lima have filed as seekers of the position of county representative.

Other candidates in the field are expected to file soon. All declarations must be in the hands of the board of elections by June 9, Chief Deputy J. M. Madison said Wednesday.

Thus far there have been no candidates announced for nomination on the Republican ticket.

LIKE TO MAKE HATS?

AT making is without doubt one of the most confusing phases of domestic art a home worker must face.

The woman with limited means, however, cannot let the difficulty of an art deprive her of the pleasure of being well dressed. And, once one understands the basic work of hat building, the question of making the head wear is simple.

The head size is a matter of major importance to the woman who would make her hat, frame and all. Thus first the head size must be taken with a tape measure. Get the circumference of the head at the place where your hat band is most comfortable.

Then make a paper pattern which you can keep for future use. Take a sheet of newspaper, fold it thru the center, again thru the center, and then, getting the sides even, fold it so that it is wedge-shaped.

Cut this then circularly at a point far enough from the center to allow width for an ordinary hat brim. Then cut the center of the paper out to fit your head size. Use your measurements for getting it in a general way, but fit it to your head by cutting—it naturally will not be round.

When the paper is of quite the right size and shape one must begin to think in terms of wire. There should be a roll of the ordinary covered milliner's wire and a roll of the wire. The latter is very fine and is used to tie the wires together.

Bend the heavy wire circularly to fit the paper head size, fasten it with wire and clip it from the roll. Then, as in Figure 3, the spokes should be put in.

They should be tied to the wire head size and each one left a little longer than the brim of the hat to be wide. The outer wire edge of the brim should next be fastened to the spokes.

Decide on the size of this first, fasten it in a circle and then tie it to the spokes, clipping off any spoke wire that extends beyond the brim. More circular wires can be put in if the weight of the hat fabric demands them.

Next a bandeau about an inch high should be built, this for the crown to fit down over. It is built just as the brim is, but vertically instead of extending out.

The crown, Figure 4, is built on a circular wire which fits the head. About eight wires should be extended over the head in the shape of the crown to be tied and tied with wire at the center.

Circular wires are then put on with the same tying method to hold the others in place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morton and daughter Betty Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith and daughter Louise, and Mrs. Ronda Zettlitz Croy welcome a group of guests at a handsomely appointed luncheon-bridge at the Zettlitz home in Shawnee.

The tables were prettily appointed, spring blossoms of various hues being used in the adornment. In the bridge playing, Mrs. M. S. Thompson held high score while Mrs. William Wenner was second.

Friday, Mrs. Zettlitz, and Mrs. Croy will welcome another group of guests at their home at a bridge-tea.

The engagement of Miss Catherine Seals, whose marriage to Michael Johnson will be an event of June 14th, was formally announced at a 5 o'clock tea given Tuesday in the lounge at the Hotel Norval with Miss Alvin Cardosi, of W. Market-st, as the hostess.

Plans were discussed for a women's chorus, which will be composed of the 33 voices among the active members together with a group of associate members. Under the leadership of a competent director, the chorus will undertake many things.

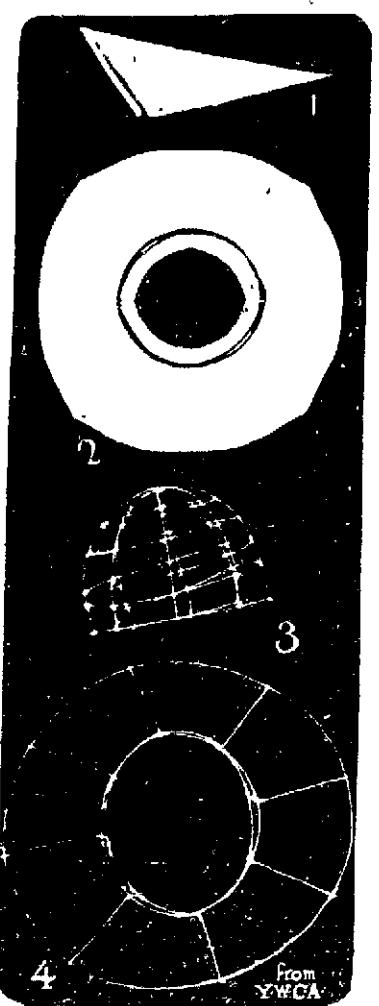

Numerous interesting attractions for the coming year were also discussed. Among the probable numbers for next year will be the Stuart Walker Poite Maunie Players, who will give the dramatization of "Joeb." Another probable engagement will be a famous quartette, of which each of the members is also a soloist. Many have asked for the return of the Cleveland Symphony orchestra, the year's engagements never seeming complete without a symphony orchestra.

Those present at the luncheon included Neddes Roy Banta, C. S. Baxter, C. A. Black, Luah M. Blitzer, Frank Callahan, Fred Calvert, W. A. Campbell, E. J. Curtiss, John Garner, May Kirby Clark, Joe Evans, Fred E. Gooding, J. Allen Grubb, E. J. Hobart, P. M. Husken, Rudolph Jeltinghoff, of Delphos; R. D. Kahle, M. M. Keltner, Clarence Klinger, Nelson Light, Harry Macdonald, P. Reed Marshall, Donald McNeatley, Charles Preston, Forster B. Robin, J. W. Roby, Ralph Shidler, T. R. Schoonover, E. A. Siford, Morris Thomas, R. O. Woods, O. N. Young, Misses Leona Feltz, Nell Kriete and Esther Lynch.

Mrs. F. P. Stafford, of S. Main-st, delightfully entertained the members of the Art Study club with a 7 o'clock dinner at the Elks' Home, Tuesday evening. Following the dinner Miss Edith Simpson presented an interesting paper on the subject, "The American Academy at Rome."

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, June 13th with Mrs. T. F. Brads, Jr., of Lakewood-ay. The election of officers and the annual report will be given at this time. Mrs. W. R. Daniels will have a paper on the subject, "American Sculpture."

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Talmage, of Reese-ave, have returned from a motor trip thru Michigan.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
As I am a young woman 24 years of age, I have been keeping steady company with a girl of 20 for almost a year. I love her greatly and sometimes I feel that she cares for me. I am certain, however, because I have never exactly expressed my love to her. I have no home of good position, but I am in a home of good position, but I am anxious to marry and have a nice comfortable home and a loving wife. Do you think it would be too soon for me to ask this girl to marry me?

IN LOVE,
CERTAINLY, it would not be too soon for you to ask this girl to marry you if you are certain you are genuinely in love with her.

It is quite possible that she may not feel sure that she cares enough for you to become engaged to you or that she knows you well enough. In that event, you will have to be satisfied to wait until she reaches a decision. Do not be hasty and hurry her into making so serious a decision simply because you are desirous of having a home of your own.

DEAR MISS SMART:
I have some very fine linens that have become dingy looking from improper laundering. I have tried them with soap and water, but this does not make them look any better. What would you advise?

MRS. SMITH
The use of a bleaching powder should help. To prepare for use, stir two teaspoonsful into a pint of water in a glass or earthenware dish. Allow to settle and pour off the clear portion. Add a few drops of vinegar. Immerse the fabric to be bleached or in the case a spot to be removed stretch the sooted portion over a bowl of boiling water and apply bleaching solution to the stain with a clean medicine dropper. When the spot disappears or the fabric is sufficiently whitened, transfer to a basin of hot water and ammonia or a solution of hyposulphite of soda (one tablespoon to a quart of water) to check the action of the lime. Run in clear cold water, wring and dry.

STEAD OF EXTENDING OUT.

The crown, Figure 4, is built on a circular wire which fits the head. About eight wires should be extended over the head in the shape of the crown to be tied and tied with wire at the center.

Circular wires are then put on with the same tying method to hold the others in place.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Frost in the air of that early winter day lent its sunlight the cold brilliance of diamond dust. On Fifth Avenue the crush of motor cars had grown so dense that one could hardly drive from the Plaza to Thirty-third street in less than thirty minutes.

Bellamy turned over every half dictated by the twinkling semaphore lights of the traffic towers. In his understanding it was essential that the car should set him down in front of the sedate pressed-brick structure on East Thirtieth street whose entrance was flanked by an everlasting plate of brass advertising in dignified black letters, "OFFICES OF THE DRUCE ESTATE—necessary for the planting of what he was pleased to term his "alibi."

It was true, Lucinda, had never deigned to question a servant about his comings and goings, he had no reason to believe she would ever be so far forgetful of her dignity. Still, if one will flit with fire, the first rule is to take out insurance.

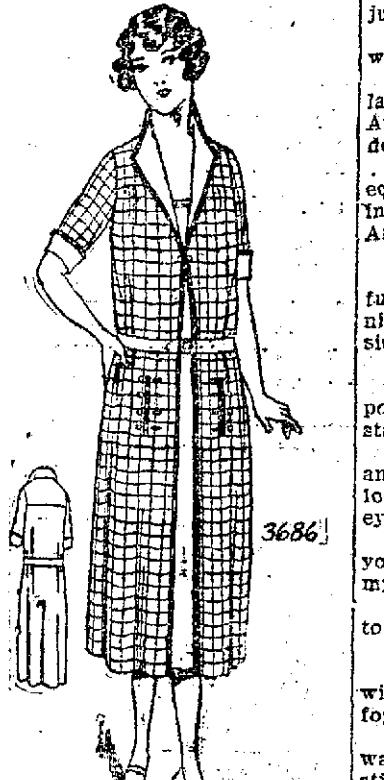

Todays found Bellamy more out of humor with himself than ever before, more disposed to consider turning over a new leaf, a project often mooted by his conscience (always when he was falling out of love) after approved—but, never seriously tackled.

Three in the course of the scant hour he spent at his desk Bellamy put out a hand to the telephone, meaning to call up Amelie and call it off; and thrice with held his hand, partly because he hated the thought of a wrangle over the wire, partly because he was afraid the girl at the switchboard might listen in.

MOTION PICTURE MOVES INTO THE FIFTH ESTATE

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

OME day some statesmen will arise in some great council and dramatically pointing beyond the press gallery will exclaim, "There, gentlemen, is the fifth estate." And the cameramen will hardly stop grinding their machines to acknowledge the tribute.

For the motion picture is developing into an instrument of political and economic influence that will soon surpass the vaunted power of the press.

D. W. Griffith, H. G. Wells and other men of vast fame and wealth and intelligence expect to end war by the means of the motion picture.

The communists of Russia have already completed a film which is expected to spread the Soviet gospel throughout the world. This film is now being exhibited in Moscow and other Russian cities. It was enacted entirely by native Russians and under the supervision of the Soviet government. Plans are being made for the exhibition of this film throughout Germany, Austria and Hungary.

A film made under the supervision of labor leaders and financed by groups of union laborers is now being exhibited in this country.

If the movie is to be used for propaganda purposes by labor, by capital, by political parties, by religious sects or by various specific groups, it will prove of little efficacy when used for such a worldwide spread of propaganda as the proposed film preaching against

That film will represent the best thought of the thinking people of all nations, creeds and social strata. For the first time in history one form of expression will try to convey one idea to all the peoples of the world.

Faurot Changes Bill on Thursday

A COMPLETE change of program will be seen at the Faurot theater, starting Thursday matinee and continuing thru Saturday night's performances.

Foremost on its bill of three exceptionally fine and well balanced acts, is the Bluebird Review, which winks its way into Keith big time vaudeville with something that is much desired in the way of ultra high class singing rendered by two young men and two charming girls.

All four have won enviable reputations in the field of musical endeavor. In their offering they will give renditions of the ever popular "blues" as well as operatic selections, as artistically done as could be found in Grand Opera of magnitude.

A silken setting of much splendor enhances the value of the act scenically and frames well this jewel of vaudeville offerings.

Gordon and Germaine are billed as "The Picture Plates of Fun," and are a versatile pair of comedians who, as members of two different acts that created a sensation in this country and in Europe, achieved lasting reputations as acrobats of a superior quality.

Crystal Gazer at the Majestic

A special addition to the regular program of pictures being shown at the Majestic theatre, the management has secured Alla Regeh, crystal gazer, psycho-analyst, and mind-reader, to entertain patrons with a demonstration of his seemingly occult powers.

Regeh is billed as the man who can answer any question put to him, foretell future events, etc. His program at the opening performance on Tuesday evening was interesting to all who attended, and the special matinee for ladies at the theatre on Wednesday is expected to prove highly diverting.

The engagement of Alla Regeh will continue today and Thursday.

MRS. EASTMAN INJURED
OTTAWA — A broken ankle and severe bruises were sustained by Mrs. E. R. Eastman, wife of Judge E. R. Eastman, when she was struck by an automobile, Tuesday night.

The situation today, Governor Harding asserted, is in many respects the reverse of what it was at the end of 1919, surplus goods having now gone into consumption and there being a marked reduction in the goods on the merchants' shelves.

AGRICULTURE REVIVAL

"The fact that a revival in agriculture," he said, "has come much sooner than had been expected by those who had regarded the low prices of last summer as permanent, has brought new hope and courage to the agricultural districts and affords a basis for the belief that there will, in due time, be a distinct business improvement in those districts.

While the situation abroad is still complicated, he said, there are many indications of improvement, the exchanges of some of the leading European countries have become far more stable during the past year and the money spent by the American tourists now flocking to Europe will add to the ability of the foreigners to buy American goods.

STIRRING PAST SEVEN YEARS

Governor Harding continued, "have been full of momentous and stirring events and merchants have had their trials and their burdens to bear as well as all other classes. The world-wide reaction which followed the abnormal activities of the early post war period had a serious effect upon the business of wholesale merchants but it is gratifying to know how well they have stood up under the strain and in view of the evidences of improvement which are now apparent in all sections of the country. It seems to me that the time has come when the enterprising business man will let others indulge in lamentations and recriminations over the past and devote his energies to working out the problems of today and preparing for the business of tomorrow.

"Remember that this country of ours has never failed to demonstrate its tremendous power and that the processes of production, distribution and consumption will be continuous as long as humanity endures. Let the merchants exercise their functions as distributors. If business is dull, send out your traveling men; use printers ink, advertise liberally but judiciously and the business that you thus create for yourselves will stimulate production and by reducing the number of unemployed will add to the purchasing power of your customers."

NEW YORK — Initial quotations in the stock market today were irregular, the usual mixture of fractional gains and losses being recorded. Within the first half hour however, prices strengthened in almost every direction under lead of oils and equipments. Associated, Houston and Pacific Oils rose 1 to 2 points. Baldwin Locomotive, Westinghouse and Computing Tabulator Recording gained 1 to 1 3/4 and Manhattan Power and Manhattan Elevated made one point advances. Independent steels, coppers, rubbers and mail order shares also improved. Railroads were dull, but New Haven opened within a small fraction of its maximum price for the year.

The market lapsed into extreme dullness during the morning. Sales of the first hour barely aggregated 200,000 shares, the smallest total since last March. Higher prices quoted by the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and Louisiana were helpful to the oil group, including Standard Oil of California. Strength of British exchange confirmed overnight advices of more hopeful conditions at Genoa. International Harvester, Lima Locomotives and Railway Steel Springs were added to the stronger equipments. United States Steel anticipated a probable increase in unfilled orders for April by a substantial fractional gain. New Haven rose to the year's best price at 30 1/2 and Toledo, St. Louis and Western and Colorado and Southern were strong. Call money opened at 4 per cent.

Lack of public interest and firm-money tendencies caused further selling for both accounts in today's relatively dull stock market. Sales approximated 850,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

Is Your Face and Body Covered With Pimples and Blotches? Is Your Color Sallow and Your Skin Party.

If your face is covered with pimples, hickies and rough red spots; if your skin is pasty and dark colored and lacks the rose-glow of health you should take Nerv-Worth and help purify your system of the poisons that cause these surface indications of bad stomach, torpid bowels and liver. Now my complexion is splendid and my skin is all clear. No woman can have a clear complexion if she rids her system of the impurities that causes them by taking Nerv-Worth. It costs only one cent deposit on one dollar a bottle. It is always on sale at Hunter's Drug Store in this city. It aids digestion, stops acid stomach and gas, tones and relaxes the bowels.
